
2: In the PlaceCard message, idx indicates a specific card in the hand, x and y are coordinates, face indicates the orientation of the card.
4: wrongTurn tells the client that it's not their turn.
7: In the addCard message, card is the card referred to the idx.
10: returnedValue: returns the points given by placing the card.
11: cardGetInfo returns a string containing useful information to update the client's view.
12: outcome returns true if the card has been placed, false otherwise (if an exception has been raised).